

It seems that for sale boards must fight for their space as new technologies become more and more advanced. Selling properties requires advancing with the trends and stand out within the market.

Scan me slips take the user straight to the property full details and information on your website. Simple, direct and straight through everyone's smartphone.

Sitting on the posts of the existing For sale and To let boards, they are scannable QR codes that are large and visible enough to scan from beyond a boundary wall.

At Humphreys Signs, we are offering to produce the Scan me slips for next day delivery for all orders received before 12pm, we are also rolling out the service of fixing the Scan me slips to all boards erected at the time of ordering for no additional attachment fee.
